The May family enjoying Grandparent's Day!

From the Dean's Desk

Perseverance

Perseverance is the distinguishing variable between that which is good and that which is great. The ability to withstand disappointment, reason through conflict, overcome challenge and see an assignment through makes the difference; deciding to become a problem-solver instead of a problem avoider. Every problem is not ours to solve, which causes us to depend on one another. Yet, God has given each of us the solution for a need in the world. God promised Abraham in Genesis Chapter 12, that he would be a blessing to all the families of the earth. As we submit our lives to God, He grants answers through our gifts, wisdom, and love.

What hinders determination? Fear of a dreadful outcome, the absence of hope, a faint heart. Prayer and encouragement are vital to staying strong because there is a price to pay for that which is exceptional. God does not release power and authority for that which is easy. The extraordinary will require us to carry out what most are unwilling to complete. Let us remember to never feel mocked in our extra efforts knowing that it takes hard work to produce something remarkable.

Perseverance is an important quality to share with our children. Let us enjoy the process understanding that we are building a legacy of excellence. Ecclesiastes 9:11 tells us that the race is not given to the swift nor the strong, but to the one who endures until the end.
