Internal-External

External is what is seen; what is exposed to others. Many people spend most of their lives striving to gain exterior possessions; houses, cars, finances, furniture, and more. In today's culture, it is easy to yearn for material belongings. We are bombarded with messages that tell us that we will have more value, admiration, and contentment with an abundance of things. The Bible tells us in Matthew 6:33 to seek the Kingdom of God above all else, and live righteously, and He will give us everything we need. Therefore, we should passionately pursue a close relationship with the Lord more than anything. God desires to touch our heart with love, compassion, grace, and mercy. We should care more about who we are versus what we have. As we concern ourselves more with the "internal," we will experience greater success with our endeavors. The Bible declares in 3 John verse two, I wish that you would prosper as your soul prospers.

The Cambridge Community has experienced many blessings. As a school, we consistently seek ways to obtain additional resources to educate our children. However, this should not be our only pursuit; we want to be a people who have a heart after God. May all of the great blessings we receive be symbolic of the spiritual growth in our lives.

Coram Deo,
LaTonia Lambert
Dean of Academics
